

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

The Louisiana Baptist gives an account of an attack on the owner of plantation, on Black Bayou, by the blacks who had been engaged to work for him on shares. They insisted on taking one-half of the crop instead of one-third, according to the terms of the contract. Failing to obtain this, they assaulted him, when he shot four of them. The Federal officer to whom he reported the facts, sent an armed force to the plantation. The negroes defied the troops and finally attacked them, when six more of them were shot down.

Advices from Porto Rico to the 16th inst., state that a severe hurricane was experienced on the 13th instant, and a number of coasting vessels were lost, and others seriously damaged. The rivers were overflowed, causing inundations at various points, and considerable damage to property.

A dispatch from Auburn, N. Y., states that the Rev. Dr. Hawley, a Presbyterian clergyman of that place, has been appointed by Secretary Seward to a highly important secret service mission to a foreign country. The announcement is "highly mysterious," but its importance may be doubted.

Thad. Stevens, fearing from his enfeebled condition, that he will not be able to speak in Congress, has prepared and will publish an address, embodying his views upon public affairs. A letter from Fort Monroe states that the storm of Monday was felt with great violence there, and it is feared that many disasters must have occurred on the coast.

Pittsburg has 201 firms who did a business of over $100,000 last year. Most of these are manufacturers of iron, steel, glass, &c.

Missouri is now paying five of the coupons on her 6 per cent. State bonds, being two years and six months interest on the same.

A court martial for the trial of cases involving violations of military law and discipline has been convened at Fort Monroe.

Heavy rains prevailed in Cuba on Monday, and arrivals from sea report a hurricane and severe rain storm.

THE SITUATION AND DUTY OF VIRGINIA.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

In this, our day of adversity, when the present is almost intolerable, and the future is overcast with gloom, it becomes every lover of freedom and every true Virginian, calmly to reflect upon the situation of our "State," and determine to adopt if possible measures to rescue her from ruin.

The recent election has drawn a line deep and wide between the whites and the Radicals, and the two races which might have occupied the most peaceful relations toward each other, are now arrayed against each other. The whites so far have manifested a law-abiding, forbearing spirit, but the mass of the blacks, under their incendiary teachings, have given forth mutterings which are truly momentous, and which threaten to subvert the "Constitution of Virginia."

The Convention about to be called will unquestionably be governed by the Radicals. How much of this result is due to "Military gerrymandering," and how much to the apathy of Virginians themselves, I shall not attempt to determine, but merely suggest some views in regard to many of the evils which menace us. The success of the Radicals in fastening this "Unconstitutional Convention" upon us is due in a great measure to their strict party discipline, and if we would save Virginia from a state of degradation and ruin we must take time by the forelock, and organize our forces so that we may present a solid phalanx, against which, the "Hannibals" of the Convention may be broken. I may be thought premature in opposing a Convention before the Convention even meets, but knowing the animus of the leading spirits of the Convention, and their power therein, we know their constitution will wipe out the remaining liberties of all true Virginians.

The Radical delegates stand pledged under the name of "equal rights" to engraft upon "their Constitution" articles which will so tax and burden property that confiscation itself would be a relief. Under the present Military Government we have a government much cheaper to Virginians than the one proposed, and under our present troubles we have some hopes of deliverance, viz: the time when the reaction at the North shall have buried under the popular wave all such agitators and revolutionists as Stevens & Co. But if Virginians suffer a constitution to be fastened upon them by State action, it will be hard to remove. Let us organize. Let us have our county and town meetings, our associations and clubs, and indeed bound by the soul binding oath of the "Leagues," but by the patriotic desire of saving Virginia.

Will not our speakers come forth and stir the people up? By proper organization and diligence we may defeat the plans of our enemies. Will not old Alexandria take, at the moment, her share in the effort? VIRGINIAN.

MANASSAS JUNCTION, Oct. 28.

THE BRADLEY-FISHER DIFFICULTY.—The Supreme Court of the D. of C., in Washington, yesterday, all the Judges on the bench, passed an order reciting the facts in the case between Mr. Bradley and Judge Fisher, and closing as follows:

"And said conduct and language requiring, in our opinion, investigation by this Court, it is therefore ordered that the said Joseph H. Bradley show cause, on or before the 4th day of November next, why he should not be punished for contempt of this Court, by reason of said offensive conduct and language towards one of its members, and relating to the official acts of said Justice.

And it is further ordered that, until the final disposition of this order, the said Joseph H. Bradley shall continue to be suspended from practice in this Court."

A letter from Petersburg, in the Richmond Dispatch, says:—"The state of feeling among the business men of this city is exceedingly gloomy, and they see no prospect of prosperous times, as long as the present condition of things continues. With abundant resources of labor, if it could be profitably directed, there is little or no increase in the products of the soil; and consequently our market is in a languishing state. With all the activity and enterprise of our merchants, it is believed that few, if any, of them are making any profit. If they can only live through these trying times it is as much as can reasonably be calculated on. What is needed now above all things is that every able bodied man should go to work, and do his part to contribute to the public relief."

"It is said that the counsel engaged by the Government to assist Lucius H. Chandler, esq., U. S. District Attorney, in the trial of Mr. Davis, in November, are Richard H. Dana, of Boston, Henry H. Wells, of Alexandria, and William M. Everts, of New York."

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The Richmond correspondent of the New York Herald says: "Several citizens have today received letters from the negro vigilance committee, ordering them to leave the city within forty-eight hours, because they have spoken disrespectfully of Hannibal and his party. Hannibal has kept an armed negro guard in front of his office for the past three nights. They have refused to allow citizens to pass on the sidewalk."

Hannibal addressed a large crowd of blacks on the Capitol Square yesterday evening. In the course of his remarks he alluded to certain threats to kill him, and said: "I'll not leave. Don't you know, fellow-citizens, that when the assassin's bullet passes through my brain, or his dagger touches my heart, more than one white man will fall upon that day?" The assembly responded, "Yes," "Yes."

A difficulty arose in the Richmond Theatre, the other night, between a citizen and a Lieut. of the army, which grew out of their staring at each other in a marked manner. Each one claims that he merely returned the other's offensive scrutiny. The Mayor bound them over to keep the peace.

Several persons, white and black, but all Radical, were tried before Lieut. Hambrick, in Richmond, on Saturday, for disturbing the public peace on election day. Some were bound over to keep the peace, Wardwell and Hannibal becoming their sureties.

Mr. Oliver Berne, a wealthy citizen of Monroe county, says that if his county shall fail to vote the subscription, the C. & O. Railroad project shall not fail on that account, for that he, in that event, will subscribe the sum of $200,000 himself.

A letter from Mingo Flats, in West Virginia, states that Messrs. McKay and Clarke have recently imported some fine sheep from Scotland, and with one thousand native ewes will raise fine sheep in the mountains of W. Va.

The citizens of Petersburg are already making extensive preparations for the Virginia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which assembles there on the 13th of November.

Mr. Isaac Goddin and Mr. Peyton Johnston, of Richmond, settled by a fight at the polls last Tuesday, a difficulty between them, which had its origin some seven years ago!

The Literary Societies of the University, we learn, are about to re-establish their monthly magazine, the first number of which will appear in November.

A party of gentlemen from Lynchburg, says the Clinch Valley News, have had a very successful deer hunt in Blaine county, recently.

The Virginia and Tennessee R. R. Co. have paid arrearages due the hands in the company's employ, to the amount of $30,000.

The hog cholera in Scott county has much diminished the "hog crop" there.

FOREIGN NEWS.—The news from Italy is of great importance. The movement against Rome has touched a crisis. Garibaldi has defeated the Pope's troops and forced them within the walls of Rome, and was with his force at its gates preparing for an attack. Within the city excitement prevailed, and the Pope had left the Vatican and taken refuge in the Castle St. Angelo. The battle which had given Garibaldi such success was fought at Monte Rotondo, he having from ten to twelve thousand men concentrated there. The fight was stubborn, and at one time doubtful, but Garibaldi put himself at the head of his volunteers and was completely successful. He rapidly followed up the Pope's troops, and advanced his whole force to the outer fortifications of Rome. In Italy the excitement is intense, and the people not only demanding Rome, but also preparing to resist French intervention. Rumors were prevalent that Victor Emmanuel would abdicate, and Prince Humbert, the Crown Prince, would lead the Italians to resist the French. The French fleet was expected to arrive at Civita Vecchia, thirty-eight miles from Rome, yesterday. A Florence dispatch states that a new ministry has been formed, and that the King, so far from abdicating, has issued a Proclamation denouncing Garibaldi, and declaring for the policy of France. The Pope has issued a letter to the Bishops of the Catholic Church, calling their attention to the perils by which he is surrounded, and deploring the dangers that menace the temporal power of the Holy See.

It seems that the Radical Congressional Executive Committee have issued an "address" which they are sending all over the country. The following analysis of this electioneering paper is given by the New York Herald:

"It is an intertemporal document, substituting broad assertion for argument, violent in its abuse, appealing to passion in place of reason, and seeking to revive and intensify sectional strife. It abounds in all the hackneyed blackguardism that has been heaped upon the President by Radical politicians for the past year and a half, and pretends that the committee are in receipt of intelligence of 'new outrages upon the Union men of the South, white and black,' since the recent Northern reaction against Radicalism, which intelligence, singularly enough, is confined to the committee, and unknown to everybody else. Under the specious cry of protection for the 'Unionists' of the South it justifies the disfranchisement of the white race and the elevation of the Southern blacks to political supremacy. In short, it is an unfortunate document for the party in whose interest it is written, and shows that it has no better weapons than violence and slang with which to fight its battle."

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.—The particulars of "The Taylor's Farm Affair," as it is called, are known to the public. From the following official note it would seem that the Freedmen's Bureau, which is all-powerful for mischief, is entirely powerless for good.—Richmond Whig.

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, October 19, 1867.

James Norcom, Esq., Portsmouth, Va.: SIR—I am directed by Major Gen. Howard, to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th inst., referred from the President of the U. S., regarding the refusal of the freedmen to vacate the lands owned by Mr. W. E. Taylor, and in reply, to inform you that this Bureau has used every effort to induce the freedmen to leave the same peaceably, but they have refused. The matter now properly belongs to the civil courts, this Bureau having no authority to eject them. We respectfully, your obedient servant, E. WHITLESEY, Acting Assistant Adjutant General.

Among the decisions by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is the following: Selling or offering to sell distilled spirits at less than two dollars per well gallon does not raise any presumption in law that the tax has not been paid, because spirits may have been rectified and then diluted.

Ristori was a gypsy. Her father and mother belonged to a wandering company. She first appeared on the stage at two months old, in a basket of flowers.

A GHOST STORY.—They have a Ghost, or something in Albemarle, which appears to be decidedly a "rum" un. His ghostship is impervious to munitions, pistol balls, and such, and regards them no more than if they were fired into the thin air, instead of at his "spirit" majesty. The theatre of his operations is the dwelling house of Mr. John S. Moon, a prominent citizen, living near Scottsville, and the story goes that the Ghost has visited the premises for upwards of thirty consecutive nights, up to last Wednesday, the latest accounts we have from him. The house has been under a strong armed guard for the most of this time, and yet the Ghost eludes them, and passes into the building either through the door, or the windows as may suit his fancy. As we have stated, it regards not bullets, having been repeatedly fired at without effect, with the muzzle of the guns almost touching its breast. And a storm of balls the ghost walks about as unconcerned as if there were no other person beside himself in the world, visits all parts of the house, and when he is satisfied, walks away. His ghostship, it appears, is not above handling carnal weapons, for on Monday or Tuesday night of last week, a Miss Tompkins, an inmate of the house, fired twice at him with a pistol, and the fire was returned, the ball striking in the forehead with the loss of his weapon, but not much hurt. His ghostship has been seen by numbers beside Mr. Moon and his family, nearly all of whom have had a shot at him, but without effect. He is described as a large man, well-dressed and black. Our last bulletin from the scene of the perturbations of this visitor from the spirit land was up to Wednesday night. The neighborhood was then in a high state of excitement, and the house of Mr. Moon was guarded inside and out by a dozen or more armed men who had determined to capture the ghost at all hazards. Whether they have succeeded we are not prepared to say.—Lynchburg News.

Gen. Schofield's Reply to Mr. Gilmer's Protest. Mr. J. H. Gilmer, Richmond:

Sir: I am directed by the Commanding General to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 25th instant, referring to the late elections in the city of Richmond, and to say in reply, that the charge of official misconduct preferred by you against the Superintendent of Election will be duly investigated as soon as you will file proper specifications in support of the charge. The question you raise as to the legality of the election will be referred to the convention, which will, on the proper occasion, judge of the election returns and qualifications of its own members. Very respectfully, your obedient servant, S. F. CHALPIN, Assistant Adjutant General.

Information has been received that Gen. Hancock will be in New Orleans within the coming week to take command of the fifth military district.
